

Xtreme Divers

Dynamic scuba divers joined forces on this one-day dock repair which highlighted the BBQ Cook out at JMR quarry, Blanch, NC, May 3.

Xtreme's Updates

- BCXtreme Sports Dive Center and friends congratulate John David Emerson for graduating basic training in Missouri during June. In fact, John David was in the top 10 performing students in his group. At present, he's working on his dive master class.
- To ensure everybody's safety, new steps were added to the dock at JMR quarry, Aug.4.

Upcoming Event:

Summer Fun... Cook out Time

Summer is one of the best times of the year to hang out and bond with friends, diving with great buddies and of course a time for cooking out.

The success of the recent cookout allowed Xtreme divers to come up with another

"Cook out" at JMR quarry on Aug.9, 2008.

We are doing a low country boil with shrimp, sausage, red potatoes, corn on the cob. We will also be having hotdogs. It will be a wonderful time to see old friends and definitely meet new ones. Come bring your friends and family.

From Guns to Scuba Tanks

Brian Loeb, who just recently got back from Iraq, successfully finished his dive master class at BCXtreme. He used to carrying guns and other armaments to combat the terrorist forces in the foreign land.

After spending sometime with his family, he decided to go back to scuba diving and become a certified dive master.

Now he's having the most wonderful dive experiences in his underwater journey. No grenades or guns, this time fully equipped with dive gear and scuba tanks.

Loeb, one of our modern day heroes enjoys diving with his wife Robin, a certified scuba diver as well, who is also his best friend.

BCXtreme Sports is having an Advance Open Water Class on the weekend of August 23rd and 24th, 2008 at JMR Quarry in Blanch, NC. The class will cover the First dive of Five different Dives.
